CONTEMPT PUNISHMENT IN GANADIAN COURTS

Victoria, B. C., July 19.-William McAdams was committed to jail for nine months and ordered to give security for his good behavior for twelve mouths for contempt of court in printing an article in which he charged that, a trial had been postponed through the plaintiff having a pail with the court and also charged that the court was corrupt. He also made references in the article to the personal character of a Judge of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, He apologized to the court, but despite this the severe
